Decline To Handle Soviet Oil

Castro Orders Seizure Of 2 More U.S. Oil Firms

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro today ordered seizure of Esso Standard and Shell Oil installations and refineries in Cuba, unless they refine token shipments of state-owned (Russian) crude oil.

Both companies already have declined to handle the Russian crude, obtained in a sugar-for-oil barter deal.

Seizure of Esso and Shell would put Cuba's whole petroleum industry, valued at nearly 150 million dollars, in the hands of Castro's revolutionary government.

Two days ago, Castro seized all Texaco Oil Co. property, including its Santiago refinery, in a similar step.

Castro acted through identical resolutions which accused both Esso and Shell of violating a 1938 Cuban law requiring refineries here to process state-owned oil. All companies have held that the law means oil produced in Cuba and not oil imported in competition with their own supplies.

The Cubans announced Thursday they had already begun refining the Soviet crude at the confiscated, 26-million-dollar Texaco plant in Santiago. Seizure of the refinery had followed company officials' refusal to take delivery on 25,000 barrels of Soviet oil for processing.

Shell has a 42 million dollar investment in Cuba; Esso's is estimated at 60 million and Texaco's at 50 million. The Cuban government owes the three foreign companies an estimated 60 million dollars in exchange for Venezuelan oil they have imported, refined and resold in Cuba.

The American oil companies, in refusing to handle the Soviet crude, said they had to continue using their usual sources of supply, namely Venezuela. Castro claimed he could get the Soviet oil — which he pays for with surplus Cuban sugar — for $1 a barrel less than Venezuela's cost.

Some American experts predicted a shortage of gasoline would result from Cuban seizure of the three refineries, claiming the Soviet Union does not have the tankers to send enough crude oil for Cuba's needs. But Revolution, the semi-official newspaper, said that many firms, including at least one unnamed American company, were negotiating to sell oil to Cuba. The island needs about 60,000 barrels a day.

Newsman 'Twist' Stevenson's Arm

Adlai Says 'No Objection' To Name Up At Convention

By The Associated Press
 Adlai E. Stevenson says he has no objection to having his name placed in nomination at the Democratic presidential convention, now a little more than a week away.

Stevenson, who says he's not a candidate, was cornered by newsmen Thursday as he left a fund-raising Washington cocktail party. He was asked: Would you object if your name went before the convention?

"On the basis of my experience so far," said the two-time party nominee, "I don't think it would make any difference." But his questioners twisted his arm. Do you have any objection?

"No, I don't, really," Stevenson said finally. That was all.

Meanwhile in Los Angeles, James E. Doyle, director of a Draft-Stevenson drive, said Stevenson would be nominated by a "distinguished American," whom he didn't identify.

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, a leading aspirant for the nomination, took the Senate floor to make a scornful, sometimes angry attack on a long list of maneuvers and tactics he said his opponents have aimed at him. He defended his handling of the Senate leadership and the decision to recess the Senate Saturday and meet again after the conventions.

In a similar defense mood, National Democratic Chairman Paul Butler at Los Angeles denounced as "nasty, mean, vicious rumors" charges that he has rigged the Democratic convention in favor of Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the front-runner for the top prize.

Butler also announced he has granted Doyle's Draft-Stevenson movement working space at the convention's headquarters hotel. He said before he would not do this unless Stevenson himself asked for it.

Interest continued undiminished about former President Harry S. Truman's announcement that he will not attend the convention. Truman has promised to give his reasons Saturday at a news conference. Meanwhile a couple of other theories cropped up.

—That Truman was incensed by what he considers favoritism to Kennedy by Butler, and will use his news platform Saturday to read out a fire-and-brimstone chastisement of Butler. The New York Post said Truman was mad because he and Stevenson have been assigned minor convention roles by Butler.

—That the Missouri convention delegation is getting ready to desert the banner of Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri and rally to Kennedy. Truman has committed himself to Symington "until the last dog dies." If the delegation should switch, he would be carried with it by a binding unit rule, so he stepped off the delegation instead.

This theory came from William Knowland, former Republican Senate leader, in a front page article in his Oakland, Calif., Tribune.

Republican news was somewhat scarce. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the all-but-nominated GOP candidate, went to Philadelphia to attend a fund-raising baseball game.

Earlier, he pointed to the wafer-thin apparent victory of a Democrat in the North Dakota Senate

Butler Denies He 'Rigged' Convention

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Harry S. Truman plans to demand his ouster as Democratic national chairman, says Paul S. Butler, angrily denying he has rigged the party's convention.

"I have not in any way rigged the convention," Butler, tense and emotional, told a news conference Thursday. "And I will not resign in the face of his (Truman's) request."

Pre-convention activity burst into a party-shaking squabble when the ex-President announced he wasn't attending the convention—but wouldn't say why until Saturday.

Butler said he had heard that Truman "reportedly" is asking for a special meeting of the national committee prior to the convention to request his resignation.

Truman is reported as feeling I have rigged the convention for John Kennedy," said Butler. "I request from anyone making the charge a bill of particulars," he added.

House Votes To Override Ike's Veto

Federal Employees' Pay Hike Bill Sent For Senate's Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House today voted to override President Eisenhower's veto of a 7½ per cent pay increase for 1½ million federal employees.

The House action sent the bill on to the Senate where Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he would seek a vote as quickly as possible.

Johnson expressed confidence the Senate would also vote to override.

The Democratic leader said he did not see how Eisenhower could condemn the measure so strongly. The President called it indefensible.

Eisenhower vetoed the measure Thursday as "indefensible by any light." He said it would intensify the "conspicuous unfairness and discrimination" he contended already exists in federal pay scales.

He also said that "intensive and unconcealed political pressure (was) exerted flagrantly" on Congress to pass the bill.

At the same time he said he was willing to approve a "modest" increase, and GOP leaders were counting on this to hold enough Republicans in line to sustain the veto. Only one of Eisenhower's vetoes has been overridden since he became President.

But some other Republicans were saying the bill probably would be passed over the veto.

"After all, this is an election year," said one of them, Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz.).

Rejecting a bill to require a $1.25 hourly minimum wage in interstate commerce, the House passed a measure providing a $1.15 minimum and extending its coverage—without overtime provisions—to an estimated 1,400,000 chain retail store employees. The rejected bill would have added about 3¼ million workers to the law's coverage.

The key 211-203 vote came as a Republican-Southern Democratic coalition substituted the smaller figures, and the House passed the bill 341-72.

The Senate is not expected to act until it returns in August after the political conventions. Its Labor Committee has approved the $1.25 minimum figure rejected by the House.

Quicker Senate action may be in store for another House bill which would permit cuts in Cuba's sugar quota. The House included that provision in a bill to extend

Burglar Unsuccessful In Try At Pottery Store

Police today are continuing investigation of an unsuccessful burglary attempt Wednesday night or early Thursday in the ware display room of Pottery Products, Inc., located in part of the old brewery building on Webber Way.

The intruders gained entrance by forcing the hasp on a rear door on a section of the building used as a garage by the Ohio Bell Telephone Co., police said. Proceeding upstairs to a door leading to the display room, they were unsuccessful in an attempt to force a bolt, officers said.

The intruders also made an unsuccessful attempt to remove a 4-x-8-foot sheet of plywood from the wall to enter the display room, officers said. Apparently nothing was taken. The entry was made between 5 p. m. Wednesday and 8 a. m. Thursday and the report was filed at 10:05, police said.

Winter Hits Norway As Hot Month Opens

OSLO, Norway (AP) — Winter reigned today in large parts of Norway on the first day of what is usually the hottest month.

The weatherman reported a snowstorm over Roeros, in the mountains of central Norway, with snowfalls far down the Gudbrandsdal Valley.

TO THE VICTOR—Rep. Quentin Burdick receives a hug and kiss from his sister, Mrs. Robert Laverne, wife of the Ohio congressman, Thursday in Washington after an apparently victorious fight for the U.S. Senate seat in North Dakota. Burdick Wins Over Davis In Senate Race

Only 5th Democrat From North Dakota To Serve In Senate

FARGO (AP) — A happy Rep. Quentin N. Burdick (D-ND) today proclaimed himself a winner in two campaigns.

He said results from all but three precincts in Tuesday's special U. S. Senate election in North Dakota, giving him a 953 vote lead, are conclusive. "I'm elected," he said.

And he happily announced in Washington that he plans to marry Jocelyn Birch Peterson in Fargo Thursday.

The 52-year-old Democrat drew standing cheers from his House colleagues when he stepped into the House chamber Thursday. He had flown back to Washington without positive assurance he had won the election over Republican Gov. John E. Davis.

Only precincts left in the final tally were three in McKenzie County in which Burdick was well ahead.

When the State Canvassing Board meets in mid-July for an official audit of the returns, Burdick apparently will become only the fifth Democrat to serve in the Senate from North Dakota. He was the first Democratic congressman in state history after his 1958 election.

Burdick's wife and Mrs. Peterson's husband, Kenneth, each died in 1958. Burdick has three daughters and a son; Mrs. Peterson has a daughter, Leslie, 9, and a son, Birch, 5.

Davis said if official results bear out his defeat he will retire from politics. He was a banker and rancher at McClusky, N.D., and a state senator before being elected to his first term in 1956.

Weather-Eye Satellite Stops Sending Pictures

WASHINGTON (AP)—Tires I, the TV-eye weather satellite, has stopped sending back pictures of the earth's cloud cover.

Scientists believe that one of the two electrically operated cameras—the one with the wide-angle lens—has burned out.

"This damage seems to have affected the entire satellite system," the National Aeronautics and Space Administration said in a statement today.

Death Of Man Seen Accident Or Homicide

EAST PALESTINE — Max C. Merrell, 54-year-old barber found shot to death in the yard at his home Thursday morning, was either accidentally or deliberately killed, authorities reported today as they pushed an investigation.

Dr. William Koloszi of Salem, Columbiana County coroner, said in a statement this morning the shooting was "accidental, possibly a homicide," ruling out the possibility he took his own life.

A prowler report was received late Wednesday night from the area where he resided, and Patrolman Wayne Huston made a half-hour check of the district without locating anyone, according to Police Chief Carl R. Lotze.

Mr. Merrell was killed by a .22-caliber rifle bullet which entered the lower right side of the back of the head, causing severe brain damage and a skull fracture Dr. Koloszi said today. Death occurred within minutes, and the victim never regained consciousness, he added.

The pajama-clad body was found about 8:30 a. m. beside the home by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Merrell. A rifle, presented as a birthday gift by his step-son, Earl Hersman, at the home lay nearby.

An agent from the Bureau of Criminal Investigation and Identification was slated to arrive here this afternoon from London to assist in the case at the request of local authorities.

Warming Trend Seen For Weather On 4th

The weather for July 4th may not be "hotter than a fire cracker" but it will be slightly warmer than the weekend average, the Ohio Weather Bureau said today in its extended forecast.

And there is a likelihood of showers or thunderstorms Sunday night or Monday, continuing Tuesday. The normal high for this area is 83 degrees and the mercury is expected to peak at one to 4 degrees below this during the weekend, with the warming trend due Sunday or Monday, then cooler Tuesday and Wednesday. Thursday's high was 84 degrees.

More showers fell this morning and the weatherman said the showers and scattered thunderstorms would continue tonight with a cooling trend. Saturday will be partly cloudy but mild. The rain this morning totaled 0.38 inch up to 11.

Japan Fires Heated Reply To Russians

Strongly Endorses Pact With U.S. And Raps Interference

TOKYO (AP) — The Japanese government strongly endorsed its new military alliance with the United States today in a scorching diplomatic reply to Soviet objections. It accused the Soviet Union of undue interference in Japan's affairs and "rejected neutrality in the cold war."

Re-affirming its faith in the U.S.-Japan security treaty despite a month of riotous left wing protests, Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's government told the Soviets:

"In view of the grim realities in the Far East the stationing of U.S. forces (in Japan) is necessary for securing the safety of the nation and contributing to world peace."

Foreign Minister Aichihiro Fujiyama called in Soviet Ambassador Nicolai T. Fedorenko to present Japan's one-package reply to Soviet protests of April 22, May 20 and June 15 against the treaty. Fujiyama reportedly told the Cabinet earlier it would be Japan's last word to the Soviets on the matter and that any further protests would be ignored.

Using unusually strong language, the Japanese note charged the Soviets were guilty of "willful misinterpretation" of the treaty, "one-sided and dogmatic views," slander, attempting to weaken Japan's defenses and "distortion of facts."

The note also indirectly accused the Soviet Union of helping instigate the recent riots.

West Virginia Police Overlook Old Car Tags

CHARLESTON — State Police will overlook outdated vehicle license plates until further notice, Supt. Hazen Fair has reported. The 1959-60 fiscal year plates (red numerals on white background) were outdated as of last midnight. But Col. Fair confirmed last night that he issued an order to State Police not to make arrests.

Motor Vehicles Commissioner J. Marshall Holcomb had said yesterday there would not be an extension. His department stayed open until 9 p. m. last night to handle an anticipated last-minute rush.

West Virginia licenses follow a July 1 through June 30 year.

Indianapolis Driver Says Victim Stepped Into His Traffic Lane

 This date in 1959—13 Killed!
 "DON'T DRIVE LIKE 60"

A 60-year-old California Hollow man was killed late Thursday night when struck by a furniture van on Route 30 not far from his home.

John M. Watson, who resided on the hillside near the Pearl China Co., was pronounced dead at City Hospital after he was hit by the rig operated by Larry W. Bailey, 28, of Indianapolis about 11:55 p. m.

The State Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Mr. Watson was walking south, with the flow of traffic, when he apparently stepped onto the highway and into the path of the southbound truck about a half mile outside the city limits and not far from the china outlet.

Death was caused by a fractured skull, crushed chest and other injuries. Dr. R. C. Costello, deputy coroner, today ruled the death accidental.

Bailey told the patrol he saw the pedestrian step out at the last second and attempted to swerve to avoid hitting him. The impact knocked the body along the highway.

This was Columbiana County's 13th highway fatality this year, compared to 13 this time in 1959.

Born May 1, 1900, in Ritchie County, W. Va., he was the son of the late James Watson and Mary Ann Jones Watson. He resided in this vicinity for 54 years and for the past year was employed as a jiggerman at the Edwin M. Knowles China Co. He was a member of the IBOF Local 12.

He leaves two sons, John M. Watson Jr., and Daniel Watson, both of East Liverpool; five daughters, Mrs. Mary E. Stout and Mrs. Edith M. Allison, both of Chester, Mrs. Ruby E. Hooper of East Liv-

Layoffs Seen For Railroad

Pennsy Will Curtail Also At Wellsville

Several area workers probably will be laid off by the Pennsylvania Railroad, which announced Thursday that 2,200 will be furloughed shortly because of declining business.

The announcement was made at Philadelphia by James P. Newell, vice president of operations, who said the layoffs will begin over the next several days and will be "of indefinite duration depending on the level of business."

About 20 men working out of the Wellsville yards might be affected. At present there are five crews working seven days a week on iron ore cargoes for the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co.

With Crucible scheduled to shut down next week, the shipments will be halted and 3 of the crews or 15 men will be out of work. But, district officials said they have received no definite orders along this line.

It was reported that the Mingo Junction and Weirton yards will be harder hit, along with the Conaway yards near Rochester. Some layoffs already have been reported at Conway.

Newell said there has been a steady decline in freight volume, which accelerated in the last 30 days.

"We understand some steel mills will shut down for the month of July and possibly August as well," Newell said.

Much of the Pennsy's freight business comes from steel and allied fields.

The layoffs, Newell said, will be systemwide and will involve a general reduction in all departments.

The railroad employs about 30,000 persons.

Presiding over the Senate will be Vice President Richard M. Nixon, an apparent shoo-in for the GOP presidential nomination. Serving as majority leader will be Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of

Greased Wheel Gets The Squeak

If there are any changes not being rung by hate-America agitators who take their orders from the Kremlin, no one has thought of them yet.

This is as thorough a job as was done before World War II by ruthless brain-washers in Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy. They went through a frenzy of slanders, preparing their people to hate the United States in World War II.

If hot wars are out of style and only cold wars are to be expected from now on, it's likely the hate-America slanders of the Communist conspiracy are involved in brain-washing for a modified purpose. They are needing their own people for a more subtle reason.

There is no spontaneous hatred of the United States among the Russian people. The United States is not hated in Cuba, in any of the Latin America countries, in China, or in Japan. It is still today what it has been for generations — the most envied country.

This makes a special problem for the leaders of governments whose leaders must tee off on America for one reason or another. Their talking point is empty, unless it has a semblance of popular support.

IT IS A simple case of providing a squeak for a greased wheel.

Beyond that, there is nothing simple about it, whether the brain-washers are preparing people for an old-fashioned hot war or a new-fashioned cold war. The consequences of their malice will have far-reaching effects of the most complex nature.

Among the most complex could be the effect inside the United States, where there still are potentialities of isolationism among Americans who never believed their government should assume a leading role in world politics in the first place.

It may well be that the effect most to be desired in the hate-America strategy now in full bloom is to drive the United States back into isolation, thus giving the Communist conspiracy a free hand.

Americans are vulnerable to the psychology of rebuff, as was shown in their bitter reaction from the collapse of the Paris Summit Conference and President Eisenhower's visits to Russia and Japan.

There is a strong impulse when he happens to mutter, "If that's the way they feel about it, have nothing further to do with them. Stay home."

IT NEVER CAN BE forgotten safely that the men bossing the moves of the Communist conspiracy have mastered psychological warfare. They work at it continuously. The United States works in fits and starts.

Even so, the United States has had signal success in its efforts to block the spread of anti-U.S. feeling after the end of World War II — so much success, in fact, the Kremlin has had to revise its strategy of capture after chaos. There wasn't enough chaos. The United States was too successful in creating stability through its foreign aid program.

But if the United States could be made to turn sour on its own success by rigged rebuffs and deliberate insults, the Kremlin could have its own way. The greased wheel would have the squeak that would make things easier for the Communist conspiracy.

You Can Depend On Harry

Former President Truman always has been proud of belonging to the old school of politics. When he puts on his old school tie and goes into his professional act, he makes the old school seem like something pretty special.

Its graduates knew how to keep themselves in public attention. They studied at the knees of political showmen who had forgotten more tricks than they expected their pupils ever would learn.

Here is Harry Truman, whose own political career is far behind him, still getting top attention for himself and his party by knowing exactly when to speak and what not to say. His terse announcement that he will not be a delegate to the Democratic convention is a minor masterpiece of timing.

First, he makes the announcement, giving no reason for his decision. He then lets it be known he will drop the other shoe later in a press conference, thereby assuring himself a capacity audience for the press and national coverage for what he has to say.

In all probability, Harry Truman will have no more influence over the 1960 Democratic convention than he had over the 1956 convention, when he got all the headlines and had no more luck with his drive to nominate Averell Harriman than he seems likely to have this year with his drive for Stuart Symington.

But the old campaigner knows how to keep himself in attention at the age of 76. Anybody want to bet he won't still be the most talked-about Democratic politician at the age of 80?

Quick Action

The Blue and White Nonpareil Club deserves another pat on the back for its latest civic-minded endeavor.

The club, established primarily for the advancement of the athletic program in the city's schools, yesterday announced that it would donate a resuscitator for use at the Thompson Park Municipal swimming pool each summer. The speedy action followed an appeal for such equipment after a near-tragedy at the pool.

The club can be assured of the continued support of the sports-minded and others so long as the funds it raises are apportioned so wisely.

Kefauver Wants 'Strike Four'

Someday, when more momentous matters have been settled, Tennessee's Man in the Coonskin Cap should explain to all of us the Kefauver doctrine of antitrust legislation.

The Senate's turnaround of his latest proposal to bring baseball under existing antitrust laws whets curiosity in his point of view.

Specifically, many of us wonder about whether Sen. Kefauver and his associates who reject organized baseball's claim that it must be excused from full compliance with the antitrust laws are able to make other exceptions to their rule of full compliance for everybody.

In this special instance, their position seems to be that baseball should be made to toe the line because certain citizens interested in setting up a new baseball league want to get their hands on certain players now controlled by the existing leagues. Without a change in the position taken by the courts that organized baseball, being a sport instead of a business, can do things that would not be permitted for ordinary enterprise, the prospects of a new baseball league are as dim as those of U.S. oil companies in Cuba.

In fact, most baseball buffs insist that even with addition of a fourth strike, backers of a new league still would go down swinging. This whets curiosity and interest in the doctrine of antitrust legislation when its application ceases to be only for the sake of preventing restraint of trade and verities on becoming promotion of trade, instead.

Keen mind, rugged constitution, diplomatic wisdom and patience required together with wide knowledge of world affairs, talent for taking right routes and lot of luck. Must have own supply of aspirin, pills and hair restorers.

Applicant should possess bravery beyond call of duty, plenty of vigor and natural resistance, power to brickbats, editorial blasts and the general cry of "Since something went wrong in this decision YOU must have goofed." Should be immune to boos and have no yen for cheers and applause. Hours will be long. And how!

Some talent for bridge, gin rummy and advice on golf, fishing or other White House hobbies will be helpful.

Burt Lancaster will play doctor in "Elmer

Big supermarket chain reports lower earnings this year. As a husband sent by the missus to pinch hit in one of these markets, we refuse to believe it. We never got caught in greater jam except at a world series or big football game and are still suffering from bruises. If earnings are off in supermarkets there must be a hidden expense for cost of nursing battered males, soothing exasperated husbands and pacifying customers who find a dozen customers with loaded wagons in the express lane marked "Six packages only."

Stockholders at the supermarket annual meeting asked why stock had taken big drop. The answer could be that customers are shopping around for special sales.

Promising The Pennant

If Cleveland Indians' fans are confused at times by the conflicting views of Manager Joe Gordon and General Manager Frank Lane, imagine the consternation that could confront Kansas City Athletics fans if the city bought the baseball team.

It has been proposed by a city councilman that politicians should play political football with the Athletics. The possibilities are horrendous.

Sports writers might have to cover City Council meetings to learn what the lineup was going to be. Or they might have to wait outside the city manager's door.

Perhaps the team's manager could be removed by referendum on letting the players stay in a slump.

A council candidate might win election on a promise to sign up three 20-game pitchers, four 300 hitters and win the American League pennant.

It would be better if the New York Yankees bought the team outright.

Don't Hitch Your Wagon To This One

Labor Plans Solid Vote Bloc

By Victor Riesel

In one of labor's executive suites the other day a political specialist tallied some figures and discovered that at least one out of every 12 delegates to the Democratic national convention is a union official. His total came to at least 365 — or some 150 more than had been in on the nomination of Adlai Stevenson in '56.

Exactly how many will take their leadership from Walter Reuther when he flies in to Los Angeles from Europe via Detroit, Roy Reuther, the union's political director, won't know until he finishes surveying reports now coming in from his people in other states.

Reuther's auto bloc could easily run as high as 50 men and women.

THESE 365 DELEGATES and alternates won't, of course, all have a full vote. But voting strength is no measure of their influence among the 4,500 credential carriers on the convention floor.

The 365 unionists range from the highest, most colorful leaders such as the Building Service Employees president emeritus, Bill McFetridge, and the Musicians president emeritus, Jimmy Petrillo, to organizers, staff officers, regional directors and professional political executives inside labor.

Dave McDonald of the Steelworkers and Tom Kennedy of the Miners will also be delegates.

This total does not include the "gray" crowd — men like the Shipbuilders Johnny Grogan (of Hoboken, N.J.) who are mayors, congressmen and state and county leaders.

There is, for example, Leo Carlin, mayor of Newark. He is a Teamster and an influential one, too, though he has been the city's chief executive for years.

There is the super-active congresswoman, Edith Green. She will head the Oregon delegation.

Mrs. Green carries a union card in the American Federation of Television and Radio Artists. Not only was she active but the West Coast Longshoremen's Union could have no better volunteer business agent than the lady.

A member of the powerful Democratic party platform committee is Monroe Sweetland, one of the organizers of the old CIO.

FURTHERMORE, though all delegates are equal, some are more deserving equal than others and will exert far more influence than routine delegates.

There is on the New York delegation, for example, a dynamic fellow, Joe Molony of Buffalo. He is active on a dozen community and civic boards, director of the Steelworkers Region 4 and a member of the union's national board.

Still another is Joe Germano, delegate from Illinois, director of the Steel Union's District 31 and one of the most powerful men in Midwest industrialism.

Only a full post-convention analysis of all the delegates will reveal the growth of labor's actual political strength in the past four years. This will show considerably more influence in Massachusetts, Illinois, Missouri, California, Pennsylvania, Oregon and even the Southwest.

Compare this with the 230 labor delegates to the Chicago convention in '56.

They were actually able to cast 125 votes then. They took their orders from national labor leaders operating out of at least 20 hotel suites.

The labor "whip" then was the Railway Clerks' George Harrison who showed his "neutrality" by throwing two big cocktail parties. One was for Adlai Stevenson, the other for Averell Harriman. But none for Senators Stuart Symington and Lyndon Johnson.

The "neutrality" has shifted.

Harrison is for Sen. Symington today. Reuther broke the log jam for Stevenson in '56. He's for Kennedy today. Then the union chiefs caucused separately.

This time the labor people will try to weld their forces into one big voting bloc.

It is not yet the determining force. But it is the balance of power.

Rocky's Pink Coat

By Raymond Moley

The most urgent claim of American liberals is that the rate of our economic growth can be doubled by greater "investment" by government in public works and welfare benefits.

This philosophy has been accepted by at least three Democratic presidential aspirants, Kennedy, Symington and Stevenson, by the former aspirant, Humphrey, and on the Republican side, by Gov. Nelson Rockefeller.

In doing so Rockefeller has released a pink and very ferocious cat from his economic bag of tricks.

This program of forced and government-controlled economic growth includes several other items.

In Britain it would proceed with nationalization of industries.

In the United States it would almost completely nationalize the key electrical industry.

It includes economic planning on the part of the economy still in private hands, an immense growth of personal benefits through welfare and lavish subsidies for certain favored industries.

This is old stuff in the United States, since it is, with a few frills added, the same as was urged by the more radical New Dealers in the 1930's in a wholly different economic climate than that which prevails now.

IT IS STILL older among British economists and intellectuals. It is over this issue that a wide chasm has arisen among the intellectuals who provide ideas for the Labor party.

On examination of what such economists and political figures such as Hugh Gaitskell and Anthony Crosland have recently said about the reasons for Labor's disastrous defeat last October it must be realized that American liberals may be in for the shock of their lives next November. For the unionized workers over there deserted the Labor candidates in large numbers.

Gaitskell and Crosland have recently pointed out that the old dogmas of the Labor party have lost their attraction for a rapidly changing class of workers.

New Low In Prestige

By David Lawrence

Senate Committee Termed Inconsistent

Has the prestige of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee reached a new low? The Senate has just been given a report on the U2 affair which in part is concurred in by some of its members, while others dissent. It lacks co-ordination and consistency.

Ten senators — all of them Democrats, including Sen. Kennedy — officially put themselves on record at implying that the President should have lied to the world. Six Republicans and one Democrat insist that it was absolutely necessary for the President to tell the truth.

The same committee's chairman, Sen. J. William Fulbright, (D-Ark.), after presenting the report to the Senate, alleges that the administration is lying now about certain aspects of the incident.

In a speech to the Senate, he says:

"We are told that this particular flight was in a special category; that it was seeking information of extraordinary importance which might not be available later. However, we are not told, even under conditions of the utmost secrecy, what that information was."

"In view of the sensitivity of some of the other things we were told, this reticence on the part of the executive branch raises the question of whether the information sought on May 1 was in fact as important as it has been represented."

"There is ground here for the conclusion that the alleged extraordinary importance of this information is the administration's cover story for its own costly mistake."

TO ACCUSE one's own government of lying to a Senate committee doesn't seem to bother the senator, who, in the same speech, also declares that President Eisenhower should have refused to take responsibility for the U2 business and, instead, should somehow have evaded the truth.

For, while Mr. Eisenhower did not really know in advance of the particular flight on May 1, he did give general authorization in advance and said so to the American people and the world. Yet Chairman Fulbright says to the Senate:

"The gravest mistake was made when the President assumed responsibility for the flight."

Sen. Alexander Wiley of Wisconsin, ranking Republican on the Foreign Relations Committee and Sen. Frank Lausche (D-Ohio), in a separate report concurred in by butted this same point as follows:

"Conditions following the May 1 flight having developed as they did, it was unavoidable for the President to make a statement with regard to it. If he had to make a statement, he had to state the truth."

"Moreover, if he had not told the truth by avoiding personal responsibility, the four demands Khrushchev made upon him in Paris would not have been altered."

What is puzzling are the contradictions in the main report, which frankly says that "the sort of information provided by the U2 is of enormous value in assessing Soviet capability to mount a surprise attack," and then argues later on as follows:

"In looking back, if one accepts the conclusion that the failure of the mission furnished an excuse for Khrushchev's wrecking of the summit conference, then, in the absence of compelling reasons to the contrary, there is good reason to conclude that the flight should not have gone."

BUT THE SECRETARY of defense says the reasons were compelling and the Senate majority report itself concedes the great value of information obtained by the U2 flights, which were needed to help protect the American people against surprise attack by the missiles of the Soviet Union.

Possibly the prize example of inconsistency and lack of coordination among the Democratic members is to be found in Sen. Fulbright's own speech when he says:

"In any event, my argument is not that the President should not have told the truth; my argument is that he should not, as the head of our nation, have become personally involved in the incident, one way or the other."

This appears to be one of those "distinctions without a difference." For the query will be immediately posed as to how a President of the United States can keep himself from becoming personally involved in any official action taken by his own administration.

One can hear already the outcries from the Democrats demanding an investigation of why the President, assuming that he did blame someone else, didn't know in advance what was being done and why he has subordinates who do such things, and so on.

Indeed, Mr. Khrushchev would not have been satisfied with such a patent evasion of official responsibility and would have continued to demand the removal and the punishment of those same subordinates.

There was a time when the Senate Foreign Relations Committee had considerable prestige.

Today its report stands as a glaring example of how to furnish arguments to the Soviets for use on the air waves to try to discredit the United States and to help bring it to a "new low in prestige" — which phrase an American senator, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, uses in an indictment of his own government.

First Half Of 1960

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

The first half of 1960 is over. It was busy. But what does it add up to?

In foreign affairs it is too soon to say whether these past six months added up to an American disaster or just an unpleasant interval.

At home living costs reached an all-time high but there were no sensations as the presidential contest picked up speed.

As the new year began there was renewed hope that — internationally — things might get better.

The United States, Britain, France and Russia were bustling and hustling, getting ready for the summit conference May 16 in Paris.

Before February ended France had joined the atomic club of the other Big Three by having its first atomic explosion.

There was a new twist abroad, one which may set the pattern for more serious events in the future.

Rioting students in Korea forced out high-handed President Syngman Rhee; and in Turkey rioting students forced out the dictatorship of President Adnan Menderes.

Then the egg broke.

The American U2 spy plane was brought down over Russia with an unprecedented roar from Premier Nikita Khrushchev who insulted and belittled President Eisenhower's trip to Moscow.

It is too soon to know whether relations have been terribly damaged or just badly bruised.

The cold war resumed frigidly. Khrushchev talked of waiting until Eisenhower's successor is elected to resume trying to do business with the United States.

Meanwhile, Eisenhower, carrying out an Asian trip arranged before the summit crackup, ran headlong into another embarrassment.

The Japanese government, fearing for his safety, yielded to the protests of rioters against both the President's visit to Tokyo and the new American-Japanese defense pact.

It called off Eisenhower's visit to Japan.

Eisenhower came home and,

just as he did after the summit collapse, glossed over the unpleasantness and its implications, ignored his critics, and didn't seem to think the view was gloomy.

His critics—particularly among the Democrats and most particularly Sen. J. W. Fulbright of Arkansas, chairman of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee — gave a darker interpretation.

Fulbright accused the Eisenhower administration of fumbling and bumbling in foreign affairs, and then some.

At home the year began with Vice President Richard M. Nixon seemingly certain of the Republican presidential nomination. Nothing which happened during the first six months of 1960 changed that.

New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller had dropped out of the race against him just before the year began and later tried to edge back in by saying he'd accept a draft if the Republicans wanted him.

As the year began, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts announced he wanted the Democratic presidential nomination. But first he had to prove he had some support.

He proved it by campaigning in the primaries and now, just 10 days before the Democratic convention opens in Los Angeles, he's the Democratic front-runner.

"Nellie Bly," the newspaper woman who made her famed 72-day trip around the world in 1889, also ran a steel fabricating plant. It was given to Miss Bly, whose real name was Elizabeth Cochrane, by her wealthy husband, Robert L. Seaman in 1899.

the Sugar Act for an extra year, until Dec. 31, 1961. The bill was passed 394-0.

Quick action by the Senate Finance committee or a direct vote by the Senate would permit passage by Saturday. Unless that is done, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven (R-Iowa) told the House Thursday, Cuba could flood U. S. markets with 875,000 tons of sugar under its present quota within weeks.

In other action Thursday:

1. Congress completed action and sent to Eisenhower a $39,996,608 defense money bill containing $661,608,000 more than Eisenhower asked for the year starting today.

2. The Senate passed a $718,269,147 money bill to run the State and Justice departments and related agencies.

3. Both Houses passed and sent to Eisenhower a bill to extend the GI housing program for two years beyond its scheduled July 25 expiration date. Senate action was by voice vote. The House passed it 391-1.

Truck Kills Youth

In Rochester Mishap

ROCHESTER — A 19-year-old pedestrian was killed instantly about 1 p. m. Thursday by a tractor-trailer truck as he was walking or standing on a sidewalk along Route 88.

Albert Michael Maley of New York Ave. was hit by the truck driven by Joseph A. Shively, 34, of Pittsburgh, who said he swerved to avoid hitting a vehicle which turned in front of him into a side street.

Before the driver could straighten the truck, it went over the curb and hit a parked car after striking the pedestrian, the Rochester Baracks of the Pennsylvania State Police said. The driver was not cited pending a coroner's report.

Crash Victim Remains

'Critical' At Hospital

Ronald Dively, 21, of Lisbon R. D. 4 remains in "critical" condition today at Youngstown South Side Hospital with chest injuries suffered in a farm trailer - truck crash Wednesday night on Route 30 near Lisbon.

Dively received a puncture wound of a lung when a tractor-trailer rig driven by Henry Dietrich, 32, of Detroit rammed the rear of a farm tractor and home-made trailer which Dively was riding. Frank Sanders, 58, of Lisbon R. D. 4, operator of the farm tractor, also was injured.

Ike Beats Deadline

On Tax-Extension Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower has beaten a Thursday midnight deadline by several hours in signing tax extension-debt limit legislation for the government's new fiscal year which begins today.

The provisions would have expired at midnight without his signature.

The bill keeps in force for another year four billion dollars worth of taxes—excise levies on a number of items and the present corporate income tax. It also sets the national debt limit at 293 billion dollars for the new fiscal year. The present limit of 295 billion would have dropped to 285 billion without legislative action.

'Negligence' Ruled

In Africa Mine Disaster

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—A magistrate ruled today the Jan. 21 Coalbrook mine disaster which took 437 lives was "due to negligence."

P. J. Van Heerden found the cave-in was due to "negligence and wrongful acts and omissions of the present consulting engineers, the general managers and managers and assistant managers employed at this colliery." This negligence was attributed to these executives "personally and through their servants and agents."

Nepalese Flee South

After Red China Acts

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP)—Some Nepalese today were reported fleeing fearfully to the south from the border area where the Nepal government says Chinese Communist troops killed an army officer last week and kidnapped 17 persons.

Prime Minister B. P. Koirala and Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai had agreed to demilitarize a 12½-mile-wide zone on each side of the border. But Red China earlier this week informed Nepal it had sent troops into the zone because of the rebirth of rebellion in Tibet.

Self-Service Drinking

Test Successful At Inn

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—Sheriff's deputies say the honor system of self-service drinking underwent a successful test at the Walmore Inn, Town of Niagara.

Answering a report of four men being inside before opening time, they sped to the tavern. Sure enough, the men were inside "drinking and paying for each drink and making the right change from the till."

Owner Stanley Gibbs said he forgot to lock the door. Officers took the drinkers' names but no charges were placed.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—Nomikos Trikilis, 32, an employee of a Campbell painting contractor, fell 200 feet to his death Thursday after brushing against a 69,000-volt wire while helping paint a Toledo Edison Co. tower. He leaves a wife and four children in Greece.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller said at Long Beach, N.Y., he will play ball with the party even if his divergent views are not accepted. And he said he would campaign for Nixon if he was asked.

"It's going to be a close race and a tough fight," Rockefeller said. "That's what makes for a good campaign."

Democratic Rep. Quentin Burdick, the apparent winner of the special senatorial election in North Dakota (by less than 1,000 votes), began to believe it himself. He said he was a superstitious politician, but after a few more precincts were heard from he said "on the basis of these unofficial returns I'm elected, of course."

As a non-voting presiding officer of the Senate, Nixon theoretically is a neutral referee. He cannot even address the Senate without its permission. His power is limited to settling parliamentary differences and to voting in case of ties.

But as the party's presidential nominee, Nixon will have difficulty avoiding statements of his views on such pending controversial matters as health care for the aged, housing, minimum wages, federal aid for education and other campaign topics on which Democrats and the Eisenhower administration are in sharp disagreement.

The Senate adopted the resolution 63-26, with Young voting in favor and Lausche against.

"What can I do about this pain?"

Customers often ask questions like this. And every year we sell perhaps a ton of pain relievers. Relievers. That's the point. We can sell simple analgesics, but we can't prescribe drugs to eliminate the cause of pain. Diagnosing and prescribing are in your physician's province. We, as professional pharmacists, work with doctors, providing the drugs they order. So, if you have any kind of a persistent pain, see your physician. We shall be pleased to provide any medication which may be prescribed.

Clip And Strip Joints

New York Knocks 'Zing' Out Of Clubs On 52nd St.

NEW YORK (AP)—The wrecking ball long ago knocked the swing out of 52nd street. Today the State Liquor Authority seems bent on knocking the zing out of it as well.

The SLA earlier this week closed seven of 52nd street's remaining night clubs, labelling them nothing but clip and strip joints. The license-lifting could mark the end of a New York era.

Fifty-second street originally was a block of residential brownstones between Fifth and Sixth avenues, converted during prohibition into speakeasies.

"We made our own entertainment in those days," recalls entertainer Pat Harrington.

It was with the end of prohibition in 1933 that professional entertainment became the chief commodity of the block and 52nd street became Manhattan's "Swing street."

Long since vanished before encroaching construction is the Famous Door, where Louis Prima and his band held sway.

Gone, too, is the great old Club 18, on the downtown side of the block. There Harrington and Jack White ran through hilarious comedy routines, abetted from time to time by a young zany whose name was Jackie Gleason.

Across the street, there's a parking lot where Leon and Eddie's once stood. Eddie Davis used to direct the entertainment and a husky bouncer named Toots Shor kept an eye on things. Shor, incidentally, hopes to build his new restaurant on the site.

Milt Gabler, now with Decca records, ran a record shop on the old 52nd street. He dates the invasion of strip teasers to about 1940 and thinks the closing of burlesque in 1942 hastened the evolution.

At any rate, after World War II, 52nd street became pretty much of a pattern—one strip joint flanking another on both sides of the street. Most of them were closed out by the wrecking of the old buildings.

Rapidly vanishing from the street are its most colorful characters—the night club doormen. Raucous, persistent, in fair weather or foul, they competed nightly for customers, exhorting them:

"Come on in, the show's just starting. See it from the bar for the price of a single drink. Hottest show in town."

It seemed, sometimes, like the show was always just starting in the old days along 52nd street. But now it may be ending.

Striking Indians

In Utah Routed

By Tear Gas Shell

FORT DUCESNE, Utah (AP)—Indian police, augmented by 18 newly sworn deputies, moved in at sundown Thursday and routed a band of striking Indians with a single tear-gas shell.

Seventeen braves and squaws were arrested and later arraigned on charges of malicious mischief and unauthorized use of tribal and federal property. There were no injuries, although three men had to be forcibly subdued.

The surprise action brought a quick end to a four-day sit-in staged by 30 unarmed Indians in the tribal offices of eastern Utah's Uintah-Ute reservation. The band, calling themselves the "true Utes," quietly took over the headquarters Monday and refused to budge. Regular office workers as quietly decamped.

The "true" Utes' beef was directed mainly at other Indians, members of the reservation's tribal council. They objected to the way tribal funds were being spent, especially money appropriated for scenic, recreational and tourist attractions. They also felt mixed-blood Indians and members of other tribes were outvoting them on policy matters.

British Royal Marine Plunges To Death In Garden Rope Act

NEW YORK (AP)—You sit in Madison Square Garden, perhaps munching on popcorn or sipping a cold drink, and they bring on another act—this one billed as "the death slide."

One by one, Thursday night, 30 British Royal Marines, taking part in the military tournament and tattoo, slide to the ground on a rope attached to the 85-foot-high garden roof. The 200-foot long rope is at a 45-degree angle. They do it without using their hands.

Then the Marine Commandos' leader, Capt. Antony Laurence Easterbrook, 31, gets set for the climax, involving several somersaults down the rope before landing with a flourish.

The jaunty, trim figure of Easterbrook is attired in a black suit and black bowler. He carries the traditional British umbrella in one hand and holds a strap connected with the rope in the other.

The master of ceremonies gives Easterbrook a merry buildup, calling him "our man from Havana," a reference to the whimsical character in a novel by Graham Greene.

Easterbrook plummets from that high, high ceiling to the ground below. He never touches the rope. What an act!

The Garden is plunged in darkness. Figures scurry about, and you wait for the lights to go up for the next act.

The lights do go up and the show goes on.

You learn later that they rushed Easterbrook to St. Clare's Hospital, where a nurse reported that "every bone in his body is broken."

A couple of hours later the captain is dead.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I estimate the amount of paint I shall need for covering the interior walls and ceilings of my rooms?

A. Figure the area to be covered in square feet, then divide that number by 600 if you're painting over smooth plaster, and by 500 for sand finish. The answer will be the number of gallons you'll need for one coat. For trim, figure that one gallon will cover about 20 openings, one coat.

Q. How can I effect a support for weak stems on some of my house plants?

A. You can do this effectively and decoratively by wedging a colorful plastic fork, handle down, into the soil and then inserting the plant stems between the prongs of the fork.

Hotel Clerk Takes

What He Thought Due

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Lincoln Zonn, lie detector expert, was called in to examine a hotel clerk accused of taking $42 from the cash register.

It developed, Zonn said, that the clerk wanted to bet $2 on a horse, didn't have it and asked his boss for it. The boss said no.

So when the horse won and paid $42, the clerk figured he had that much coming to him. So he just took it from the register.

Reminder On Civil Service

State Unit On Personnel Launches Education Drive

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The new State Department of Personnel is starting an education campaign to remind county officials—gently, at least for the moment—that their employees should be under civil service.

That, in essence, was the upshot of a two-day institute under the joint sponsorship of the new department and Ohio State's College of Commerce which ended Thursday.

James T. Welsh, state personnel director, told about 150 county officials attending the institute that law requires courthouse employees, with certain exemptions, to be under civil service. He urged them to consult their county prosecutors for interpretation of the law as it applies to their offices.

Traditionally, most county offices, especially in the smaller and medium-size counties, have operated on the political spoils system while ignoring statutory provisions that appointments should be made under civil service laws and regulations.

Each elected officeholder, Welsh explained, is entitled to civil service exemption for several key employees, but that is all. The director pointed out that the law permits him to set up districts throughout the state for state-supervised administration of civil service laws. There is no present intention to do this, he said, nor is any crack-down on county officials in the immediate offing.

Welsh said the institute was designed to bring county officials up to date on information at the state level which applies to them. The old State Civil Service Commission, which the new department replaced, had little contact with county officials in recent years, he said.

The director asserted it is up to the state "to put its own house in order" with respect to civil service before it gets firm with courthouse officials.

Among speakers at the institute were Dr. Harvey Walker of Ohio State's Political Science Department and Dr. Robert Wherry of the Department of Psychology. They discussed evaluation and classification of public employees.

Killed By Truck

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Kenneth Ross of Mansfield was killed Thursday while working behind a county highway truck spreading gravel. The truck was backing up when it struck Ross.

Mr., Mrs. Joseph N. Elder, Wed June 18, Now Home

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Norman Elder have returned from an Eastern honeymoon and are residing in a new trailer on Washington St., Newell, following their marriage June 18 in the First Church of the Nazarene in Newell.

The Rev. Walter Speece, pastor of the Congo church, officiated for the double-ring ceremony before an altar setting of ferns, palms, white gladioli and seven-branch candelabra. Miss Judy Jackson presented the organ music.

The bride was Miss Wanda Elizabeth Godwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Godwin of the Congo Rd., and her husband is the son of Mrs. Genevieve Elder of Washington St., Newell, and the late Emmanuel Elder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of mirror-mist taffeta and Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice featured a scoop neckline, outlined with seed pearls, and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt swept into a chapel train.

Her imported fingertip veil of silk illusion fell from a half-hat of tulle encrusted with pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl necklace and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom, and carried a white Bible, a gift of the bridegroom's mother. It was topped with a white orchid and streamers.

Mrs. Ann Stevens was matron of honor and wore a gown of white lace over pink taffeta designed with a scoop neckline and short sleeves and a cummerbund. She wore a flowered clip hat and the veil of pink illusion. Her Colonial bouquet was of pink carnations and white stephanotis tied with pink ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Emma Renfro of New Cumberland and Miss Norma Fillo. They were gowned identically to the matron of honor and carried Colonial bouquets of pink roses and white carnations. The attendants' hats were gifts of the bride.

Karen Sue Godwin of East Liverpool, niece of the bride, was a flower girl. She wore a white silk organza gown trimmed with pink rosebud medallions and a pink hat. Her small basket was filled with rose petals.

as his brother's best man. Ushers were Tom Arnott and Bill Good Johnny Ray Godwin of East Liverpool, nephew of the bride, was ringbearer. The bridegroom presented his attendants with gifts of engraved cuff link and tie bar sets.

The mother of the bride wore a dress of blue lace over taffeta and the bridegroom's mother wore a poude blue lace. Both used white accessories and wore corsages of white orchids.

A reception was held for 150 at the Newell fire station. A three-tier cake topped with a bridal couple centered the buffet table decorated with bouquets of roses.

Aides were Mrs. Ethel Freeman, Mrs. Gertrude Anderson and Mrs. Barbara Anderson.

For traveling, the bride wore a blue cotton dress with cape attachment, white accessories and her bridal orchid.

The newlyweds are graduates of Wells High School in Newell. The bride attended Ohio Valley Business College.

Her husband is employed at the Globe Brick Co. in Kenilworth. Out-of-town guests were from Akron, Sistersville, Weirton, Chester and Evans City.

McKeever To Serve 10th Year As Head Of County Polio Fund

E. Allan McKeever of W. 7th St., former East Liverpool mayor and city auditor, has been named to serve the 10th consecutive year as chairman of the Columbiana County Chapter of the National Foundation, which stages the annual March of Dimes.

He was elected Wednesday night at the annual reorganization meeting at the Wick Hotel in Lisbon. Also re-elected were: Judge Joel H. Sharp, vice chairman; Harold Musser, treasurer, and Mrs. Winifred Byers, secretary. All are of Salem.

McKeever has been associated with the polio fund organization for close to 20 years, as he formerly was vice chairman. The organization previously was known as the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

With the discovery of the Salk vaccine, which helps hold new paralytic polio cases to a minimum, the organization took over research into the cause of arthritis and birth defects and altered its name to National Foundation. However, some of the receipts collected in each March of Dimes, both in the county and the nation, are used to help with continuing care of persons who suffered paralytic polio prior to discovery of the vaccine.

About five mild polio cases were reported in Columbiana County last year, McKeever said. The county chapter is continuing to aid in the care of 6 persons who were left virtually with total paralysis by polio in bygone years. In 2 cases of total paralysis, the polio fund paid hospital and medical care expenses of about $10,000 for each. It continues to provide braces and other necessities for the sufferers, although it steps aside in cases in which the family has adequate means or a state agency will aid.

The annual report showed approximately $12,000 was collected in the 1960 March of Dimes, staged in January. McKeever said an intensified campaign will be staged in 1961 to help the National Foundation's research program.

He announced re-appointment of Richard G. Brian of East Liverpool, former county commissioner, as southern county chairman for the 1961 drive. A co-chairman for the northern county area will be named later.

The 1960 fund campaign was reviewed and preliminary plans were made for the 1961 drive. The county organization's next meeting will be in mid-August, when several new directors will be named. The names of community chairmen for the 1961 drive probably will be announced at the same time, McKeever said.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

ESR Test

- Pain
- Arthritis
- Another Doctor

Q. Not long ago I received a bill from a doctor. Among others, there was a charge for an ESR test. What sort of test is this?

A. The abbreviation stands for erythrocyte (red blood cell) sedimentation rate. When blood to which an anticoagulating substance has been added is allowed to stand in an upright tube, the red cells gradually settle to the bottom. The rate of settling is altered in certain diseases. A normal sedimentation rate does not necessarily exclude disease, but a fast rate of settling shows that further study is desirable.

Q. Are blondes more sensitive to pain than brunettes?

A. We have no information regarding the relative sensitivity to pain of blondes and brunettes. However, an Australian dentist made a study of eye color and the reaction to pain and found that blue-eyed patients complained very little. The sensitivity to dental pain increased through the blue-grey, green-grey, green, hazel, light brown and dark brown range.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: This may sound like a small problem to you but it has caused me quite a lot of embarrassment.

We're going steady and plan to become officially engaged next year. Jerry works for his father who is an independent excavationist. In case you don't know what an independent excavationist is, it is someone who digs out the dirt so the foundation of a new building can be put in.

When we go out on dates Jerry picks me up in his dump truck. I don't mind, except it's embarrassing when he takes me to a drive-in. They make us park way on the side.

I know this isn't the worst thing that could happen to a girl, but it is a problem. Can you help?—TERRY.

Dear Terry: I'm glad you realize this isn't the worst thing that could happen to a girl. Since the embarrassment is acute only when you go to a drive-in ask Jerry if he can work out double-dates with someone who has a sedan. If it can't be arranged, don't make an issue of it or you might get dumped—and that would be a shame.

Sentimental Value

Dear Ann: My aunt lost her husband after 18 years of the unhappiest marriage on record. This aunt put on a show at the funeral that Katherine Cornell couldn't match. Everyone knew he was a perfect saint for putting up with her horrible temper.

My uncle liked me very much and always said he wanted me to have his gold and emerald cuff links which belonged to his father. When I told her about this she said she never heard him mention giving me the cuff links but she offered to sell them to me for $75.

My parents are furious but they are willing to buy them if you say it's the thing to do. I have $30 saved and would be happy to put that amount toward the cuff links. What do you say?—NEPHEW.

Dear Nephew: It's very generous of your parents to offer to buy the cuff links and I think you're nice to want to chip in the $30. I say go ahead if the cuff links have deep sentimental value. In the years to come you'll be glad you did.

Mixed Blessings

Dear Ann: I'm heartbroken. My sister had a baby girl after 10 years of marriage. She and her husband were so thrilled to have been blessed with a child after they had all but given up hope. Yesterday the doctor confirmed their suspicions. The little girl is totally blind.

Where can we find words to console them? Please, Ann, tell us what we can say to these distraught people in their hour of darkness. Are there any words of encouragement at a time like this?—WITHOUT WORDS.

Dear Without Words: Buy the parents a copy of "The Life of Helen Keller." At the age of 19 months, this truly remarkable woman was stricken with an illness which left her not only blind but deaf.

She was graduated from college with high honors and went on to be one of the most brilliant and productive women of our time. Today at 80, Helen Keller is still doing a marvelous job for the blind all over the world. Her life's story is an inspiration for handicapped people everywhere.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

July Enters With Rain In Most Of U.S.

By The Associated Press

Showers and thunderstorms gave July a stormy opening across much of the country today and locally heavy rains posed new flood threats in waterlogged sections of the Missouri Valley.

The St. Louis area, where damage from a storm Wednesday night and early Thursday was estimated at 3½ to 4 million dollars, was soaked by 1½ inches of rain in six hours.

Winds of nearly 60 miles an hour raked some sections of St. Louis County, ripping down wires and toppling trees. The latest storm also produced occasional flash flooding.

Columbia, Mo., measured 1¼ inches of rain in six hours during the night, and nearly as much fell in the same time at Kirksville, in the northern part of the state. Rivers and streams over the area already were near flood stage from earlier rains.

Tornado winds during the night smashed into a community near Bendena, Kan., wrecking a farmhouse, damaging barns and knocking down utility lines with trees. A hailstorm hit Troy, in the same area, and shattered numerous windows. No injuries were reported in either storm.

A small twister swiped at Florence, Mass., and knocked down wires in the town's business section.

Hail caused extensive apple crop damage in Maine.

Showers dampened the southern Ohio Valley, western Lower Great Lakes and south Florida during the early hours.

Area Students Achieve Dean's List At College

Wealthy U.S. Man Throws Party For 2,000 Guests

By RAYMOND E. PALMER
GUILDFORD, England (AP) — Some 2,000 guests guzzled champagne and danced until dawn today at a party pitched by J. Paul Getty, American oil magnate and perhaps the world's richest man.

But the caviar, lobster and duck ran out and late comers wound up eating hot dogs.

The shindig was a dual purpose affair: to warm Getty's new house in Britain, 16th century Sutton Place mansion, and to bring out the 18-year-old debutante daughter of his friend Capt. Ian Constable-Maxwell.

The hosts shared expenses. The party cost more than $30,000. While it was going on—from 10 p. m. to 4 a. m.—an aide estimated Getty's oil interests alone netted him about $57,000 profit.

The Tudor house, once the country home of a mistress of King Henry VIII, was like Grand Central Station at rush hour. Guests flew in from New York, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Paris, Rome, Bern and Madrid to don ball gowns or white tie and tails for the party.

All night long the crowd struggled eight abreast up and down the stairs to the ballroom, where four bands ground out music that could hardly be heard above the chatter.

People trying to leave got mixed up with people still on their way in. On the driveway sleek autos roared around trying to keep up with the commands of the public address system.

On the lawn outside a confused cow chomped on the expensive turf long past her usual bedtime. She had been planted there to boost a milk industry campaign to persuade Britons to drink more milk.

Left to right are Masters, Paul McGeehan, District 14-F publicity director, Paul Adams, retiring president, and Loschiavo who presented the new executive with his gavel. Adams was presented a plaque by McGeehan on behalf of the club for his accomplishments and to honor him for his service during the past year.

Rearie, two years; Walter Huhn, tail twister, and Claude Reed, lion tamer.

Loschiavo, a member of the Ambridge club, also presented the president's pin to Masters and the past president's pin to Adams.

A report of the year's activities was made by Adams. Ben Kaye, July 4th parade float chairman, reported and members will work on the float this weekend.

Bridge Work Contract Let

LISBON — Columbiana County commissioners Thursday awarded the Sutton & Stewart Co. of Bridgeport a contract on a bid of $17,594.89 for construction of approach to Bridge 249 in Leetonia.

The village, county and State Highway Department are sharing in the project of reconstructing the bridge as part of a flood control program for Leetonia.

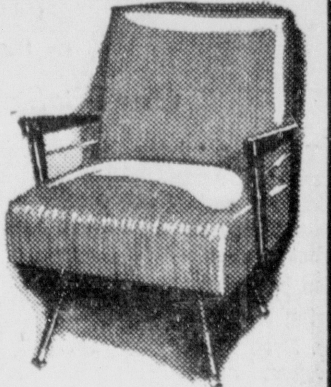

It was the only bid submitted and is about $200 under County Engineer Charles Snyder's estimate.

In other business commissioners approved payment of a bill of $65.49 for rabies treatment for Mark Henley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Henley of Lisbon R. D. 2, who was bitten by a stray cat which was never located.

A bid of $149.75 for an executive chair for the sheriff's office from the Meek Stationery Co., of East Palestine was accepted. It was the lowest of two bids.

The commissioners, Frank Wilson of Wellsville, Walter Hunston of East Palestine and Max Gard of Lisbon, will attend the state convention of county commissioners at Akron Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. They estimated expenses at $200.

threw the main electric switch and plunged the soiree into utter darkness.

Someone asked Getty what happened.

"Don't ask me," snapped the oil magnate. "I'm no electrical expert."

When one of his minions explained what happened, he ordered, "Well, don't let it happen again."

A newspaper photographer was pushed into the illuminated swimming pool. He climbed out dripping and full of fight. A debutante hit him over the head with her spike-heeled shoe and her husky male escort heaved the photographer back into the water.

Told that someone had been dunked in the pool, Getty permitted himself a wintry smile and said he hadn't expected anyone to go swimming.

"The pool's not all that warm," he said.

Then the magnate went back to dancing with Parisian model Madeline Heglar, to the strains of a West Indian steel drum and calypso band.

Cloudy And Cool
Marks Weather
Report For June

A mid-year cloudy and cool weather pattern stretched through June, according to the monthly summary of Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport who reported last month's temperature was below normal while rainfall was above.

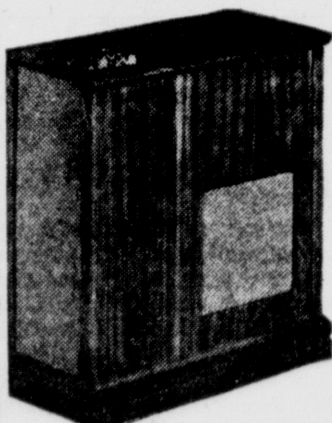

The temperature averaged 65 degrees, compared to the normal 66.5 for Copeland's 67-year records, while rainfall totaled 4.49 inches. The normal is 4.02.

The temperature ranged from a high of 86 degrees on June 28 to a low of 38 degrees on June 10. Sunshine amounted to 50 per cent, well below the usual 65 per cent for June.

There were 11 clear days, 8 partly cloudy and 11 cloudy days, according to Copeland who said the rain was helping the oat crop but hindering "hay making."

Cool nights have been slowing normal growth processes, but corn "is knee high before the Fourth of July" so a good corn harvest is possible with good weather this month.

One Big Stamping Machine

Television today is suffering from the same malady that afflicts the rest of the country—bigness. Today three networks control what 180 million people are going to look at. Even if the program heads who wield this vast power were all high-minded, this would be a narrow bottleneck through which to pour all the creative energy of the country. But all are not high-minded men.

I was talking to a showman the other day who said: "Well, the same thing that happened to the automobile industry has happened to television. You've got three giants. It's more efficient that way."

But what is good for the auto industry is not a tall good for so personal a medium of communication and information and education and entertainment as television. What has been lost is human scale.

IT MAY BE the very essence of 20th century efficiency to have all the carburetors turned out on one huge assembly line—though I sometimes wonder about that, too—but it's not at all good for all the television shows to be stamped out on a big stamping machine. And that's what is happening.

With far large studios turning out 85 per cent of the nation's shows and selling them in private little deals to three huge networks, the little independent producer is being driven to the wall.

It's the little independents who have fostered much of the creative end of television, who had the imagination and who are the last repository of some human values in this business.

Creative people are being driven out of the business altogether in favor of cost accountants.

There's an old chestnut (that was never true) that runs: "How can you possibly fill up 16 hours a day with decent programming on three networks? There's not enough creative energy in the world to do it."

I never believed this. There's plenty of creative energy to turn out five times as much first class programming as the time needs. Today the problem is to find five minutes of air time for decent creative programming. The schedules are so chock full of drive there's no space for any good programs at all.

THE AGENCIES and all of Madison Avenue are choked with fine programs which could easily get sponsors or which have attracted sponsors but can't get on the air.

Take a program like "Band of Gold." It's an anthology on marriage with the same cast—a kind of stock company—doing different stories each week. It's been sold four times to big sponsors; the networks won't let it on. Since the quiz scandals, the networks have been told by Oren Harris to take charge of (and responsibility for) their programming.

This carte blanche—which should be a good thing—is becoming a license to steal.

When an independent producer brings a show to a network, the network's first query is: What's my cut?

The going rate is 30 per cent. If the producer doesn't cut the network in for that much he's not likely to get air time.

In the past threats of anti-trust action scared the networks away from this sort of practice. Now the network position is that Oren Harris has given them a green light to run their own show.

This would be fine if the networks were running their own show the way they once did—the way CBS developed Studio One and NBC developed Today and Matinee Theater.

Here the networks not only took the risk and did the thinking but also they were doing fine creative programs, a credit to the industry and to the country.

TODAY a package producer brings in a show on which the thought and the money has been spent, the risk has been taken, the network says: "How much of it will you give me for air time?"

"They use the word 'dicker,'" said a producer bitterly. "The word 'dicker' has been extended to cover blind larceny."

But what has really been lost—through all this jockeying for control and for percentages and for ratings—is imagination and taste. Even when Hollywood was dominated by eight giant picture companies, the situation as far as courageous honest creative work went was bad enough. But at least there were eight outfits. Today there are only three.

Hard Downpour Hits In Sections Of Butler County

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Parts of Butler County were hit by a terrific downpour Thursday that measured as much as 2.95 inches. Hardest hit were the Middletown and Oxford areas.

John E. Cocanougher, Miami University aerologist, said 2.95 inches of rain fell there in about 55 minutes. Several university buildings were flooded and two of them — Scott Hall and Heistand Hall—had to be closed because of damage to electrical equipment.

C. T. Morningstar, weather observer here, said rainfall in Middletown was 1.92 inches in about a half hour. Streets and sewers were flooded.

Several roads in rural areas also had to be closed for a time. The family of Earl V. Thesken was moved out by deputy sheriffs when their home was flooded by three feet of water.

More than one-third of the total U. S. population lives in the states bordering on the Great Lakes.

Miss Mary Daniels, 1017 Huston Ave., was treated last night for a possible fracture of the right wrist received in a fall at home.

Donald Sams, 8, son of Mrs. Donald Sams, 928 Grant St., was treated for abrasions and contusions of the left ankle received when his foot caught in a bicycle wheel.

Hurt in a fall at play, Jeffrey Murphy, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Murphy, 1041 Bradshaw Ave., suffered a sprain of the wrist.

Audrey Scritchfield, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scritchfield, of Substation Rd. received a laceration of the thumb when caught in a car door.

Hugh Lochhead, 22, of 624 Oak St. suffered a laceration of the left hand on sewer pipe while at work for the Kinsey Piping Co.

Gary Haney, 5, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Haney of LaCroft, was treated for a cut of the left hand received on a knife at home.

500 Drivers Need Chester Licenses

An estimated 500 Chester motorists were without city operator's licenses today following the Thursday deadline on obtaining the $2 permits.

Roy Cashdollar, city clerk, said 1,150 licenses were issued prior to the deadline. Some 1,646 were issued last year. Cashdollar said he expects some 500 more drivers to obtain the licenses shortly.

Driving without a municipal license could cost a fine of between $25 and $250 with a possible jail term. License funds are used for street work.

Old Fear Of Informers Absent

Young Muscovites Proud Of Changes In 7 Years

When William L. Ryan visited the Soviet Union seven years ago the terror of Lavrenty Beria, Stalin's chief policeman, still was fresh in mind. Revisiting Moscow, Ryan found some changes — and some things not changed at all. This is the last of a series of five articles.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

"You were here seven years ago? Do you notice changes?" The young Muscovite waits anxiously for the reply. He seems fiercely proud of the changes.

One of the most striking is the apparent absence of the old fear, of the dread of nearby informers, of the suspicious shunning of foreigners — feelings that prevailed before Stalin died in 1953.

The relaxed attitude is most notable among young people who remember little of Stalin. They are giving old Moscow a new look. Many are far better dressed than the Muscovite of 1953. They display lively interest in the outside world. Many try to copy Western customs and manners.

To the Westerner, this emulation of his ways often seems awkward and self-conscious.

Saturday nights couples in crowded restaurants shuffle laboriously about the dance floor to old American tunes, as if grimly determined to have a good time.

Laughing, singing crowds of young people pour from the Moskva River excursion boats of a weekend evening, dressed in summer best, relaxed after a day in the sun. Many come from families of above-average income, or have well-paying jobs with little to do with their money but seek good times.

Constantly, visiting Americans are asked for copies of American newspapers or magazines. Young people love to look at the advertisements. They also are intensely interested in news from the West, and will go to extremes to get it.

A group of American students was strolling along a Leningrad street one night. Suddenly, a Russian bumped into an American girl, knocking her into the road. Apologetically, the Russian admitted he did it on purpose. He spoke English, and wanted to talk.

A young Soviet mother, chatting with Americans, casually asked for empty American cigarette packages. Particularly, she wanted a package bearing the name of the cigarettes smoked by Francis Gary Powers, the captured pilot. A picture of the package had appeared in the Soviet press as one of Powers' effects.

"The boys call them 'razyved-chik (intelligence agent) cigarettes' and consider the package quite valuable," she said.

Such goings on would have been unthinkable seven years ago. So would the boldness of young Sov-

Union's Worth Hits $7 Million City Plans Set For Checkoff Of Union Dues

Total net assets of $7,695,593 were reported by the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters in its annual financial statement published Thursday in the Potters Herald, official union newspaper.

Spread across six columns, the report was published over the signature of Charles F. Jordan, secretary treasurer of the IBOP. A notation said the report was issued "for the purpose of bringing the IBOP in compliance with the Taft-Hartley Bill."

A breakdown listed the assets as: Defense fund, $5,622,551; general fund, $1,245,202; insurance fund, $449,371, and land, buildings and printing equipment, $378,468. Most of the report was given over to a list of securities and other holdings in which the union's cash is invested.

The report covered the period May 1, 1959, to April 30, 1960. It showed disbursements of $356,642 for strike benefits from the defense fund. The first dinnerware industry strike in nearly 40 years fell in May 1959, helping to account for most of the disbursements of strike benefits.

tion from each individual. The auditor may make other rules concerning the checkoff, it adds.

The ordinance also requires the union to help pay for the checkoff expense at a rate of 10 cents per deduction, but not less than $2.50 a month.

Another ordinance will be presented clearing the way for issuance of $20,000 in municipal bonds to retire an equal amount in notes sold over a year ago to finance a city-owned off-street parking lot on W. 6th St., opposite City Hall.

The notes were issued to cover the cost of the purchase of property from Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Rapoport and the surfacing and metering of the lot. The first bonds will mature Dec. 1, 1961, and the last Dec. 1, 1965, the ordinance provides.

Resolutions will be considered to authorize payment of two claims against the city: Harry W. Davie of R. D. 2, $10.50 for damage to his car April 21 when hit by a garbage can which fell off an incinerator department truck, and Mrs. Mary Lou Cunningham, 313 Market St., $18 for damage to electric wiring at her home May 13 when hit by a fire truck turning into W. Church Ln.

Common Market In Europe Cuts 10% Off Goods

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP) — The six nations in the European Common Market pushed their tariff disarmament a step further today by slashing another 10 per cent off goods they exchange among themselves.

This marks the second 10 per cent cut since the market was set up in 1958 and another goes into effect Dec. 31.

The new Europe is taking shape with members of the club — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg — pledged to end all import quota restrictions by the end of 1961.

The next big job is to agree on a unified external duty in dealings with countries outside the club.

"Why ain't I got a right to write for the movies? That's header, that's a high dive I haven't made. Why ain't I got a right to take a dive in the 20th Century-Fox lot?"

It's no dive, says 20th-Century-Fox producer-director George Stevens. He and Sandburg announced here Thursday that they will collaborate in filming Fulton Ousler's best-seller, "The Greatest Story Ever Told."

The Sports Bench

By BOB DUFFY
Sports Editor

The Wonderful World Of Sports . . .

The world of sports is a wonderful one. Take the heart-warming story about a Little Leaguer from Paducah, Ky.

A 9-year-old lad named Mickey Taber, who plays in the McCracken County (Ky.) Little League, pulled off an unassisted triple play. He played second base.

With runners on second and third, Mickey caught a line drive, touched second for the second out and ran to third for the final out of the inning.

It was a bigger thrill for Mickey than most kids, since he only gets to play in a few games each season because of a heart condition that all but keeps him from playing baseball.

Gordon Cobbledick, sports editor of the Cleveland Plain Dealer, received the report of Mickey's triple play. Accompanying the story was a letter written by Mickey's minister of the First Baptist Church of Paducah.

The minister pointed out that Mickey will have to undergo serious heart surgery at St. Vincent's Charity Hospital in Cleveland on July 14 and will need approximately 15 pints of fresh blood (Type A negative) for the operation.

His doctor has asked that his family obtain donors from the Cleveland area.

Cobbledick ran a plea in his column and commented, "If I know Cleveland people, they'll respond."

So a triple play, a helping hand from a minister and the Cleveland sports editor may keep young Mickey playing baseball for some time.

Not Many Changes Made . . .

COACHING changes on the district sports front have been light this year in respect to other areas.

Midland, New Cumberland, Stanton Local and Salem are in for changes when the new school year rolls around.

Chuck Polce has taken over at Midland High, where John Petchel ended a successful coaching career.

At New Cumberland, Charlie Miller stepped down as head coach in football and basketball. John Kuzio, his assistant for 10 years, moved up to the head job. John thinks he has a pretty good assistant, too. It's his brother, Steve Kuzio.

At Stanton Local, Les Douglas,

RUDY TRBOVICH of East Liverpool, who was pitching for Burlington of the Class B Three-I League, has returned home after sustaining an arm injury and will miss the remainder of the season. Rudy is the property of the Pittsburgh Pirates.

WHEN Paul Popovich played varsity baseball at West Virginia University, he batted .426, had 13 extra base hits and batted in 26 runs in 26 games.

These are reasons enough why the Chicago Cubs signed him for $42,000 and sent him to San Antonio of the Texas League at a salary of $1,000 per month.

THROUGH an error in a report of a Minor League game, credit Tom Scott of the Elks team with the pitching victory in Monday's contest with Coca-Cola. He struck out 17 and allowed only three hits in the outstanding performance.

Vitrified Hurler Pitches No-Hitter But Still Loses

What do you have to do to win a ball game? Jack Bryan of American Vitrified pitched a no-hitter and a near-perfect game by facing only 23 batters but wound up losing, 1-0, to Patterson-Wetzel Cleaners Thursday in the City Softball League.

While Bryan was pitching a no-hitter, Howard Wilson of Patterson-Wetzel Cleaners scattered five hits and struck out 11.

In the eighth inning, the Patterson-Wetzel combine pushed across an unearned run on a walk, a hit batsman and a throwing error.

In another contest, the East End Merchants won their fifth game in six starts behind the four-hit pitching of Gene Talbot. Tom Stillwagon and Talbot led the winners with two hits each.

MacPhail Thinks His Orioles Can Win AL Pennant

BALTIMORE (AP)—President-General Manager Lee MacPhail of the Baltimore Orioles tossed a semantic slider when discussing the pennant chances of the surprising 1960 Birds.

"If you ask me if they will win, I must honestly say no," MacPhail said Thursday.

"But if you ask me if they can win, the answer is definitely yes."

"If our young players continue to hold their own, if we get more help from our older players and if the pitching continues to improve, I'd say we have a chance for the pennant."

"In addition, we'd have to get through the season without major injuries because our bench isn't strong enough to overcome them."

MacPhail said Baltimore's phenomenal success in one-run games thus far (19-6) has had much to do with the Orioles being on or near the top of the American League standings.

Stuart's 3 Shots Gain Split For Pittsburgh

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

In 51 years, Ralph Kiner was the only Pirate ever to hit three home runs in one game at Pittsburgh's Forbes Field. That was a dozen years ago, and the right-handed batter was shooting at a short left-field fence. Kiner's Korner, they called it.

Thursday night, with the false fence long gone, Dick Stuart became the second Pirate ever to jolt three home runs out of Forbes.

The slumping, sometimes sluggish slugger did it in consecutive at-bats, then added a two-run single for seven RBI as the Bucs beat San Francisco 11-6 and salvaged a split in a two-night doubleheader.

The nightcap victory, after a three-hit pitching performance by Jack Sanford had given the Giants an 11-0 decision in the first game, was the Pirates' first success in six games, but padded their National League lead to three games again.

Second place Milwaukee lost 11-5 at Chicago.

The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers returned to the first division for the first time since May 7, tying idle St. Louis for fourth place with a 10-6 victory at Philadelphia that dropped the Phils back to the bottom.

In the American League, the New York Yankees hit five home runs and defeated Kansas City 10-3 for a 21-3 June record. Baltimore, 1½ games behind, regained second place from Cleveland with a 9-1 victory over the Indians. Chicago's White Sox ended Washington's winning string at five, beating the Senators 4-2 in 10 innings. Boston whipped Detroit 11-7.

Stuart socked his homers off three pitchers. He hit a three-run shot off starting southpaw Mike McCormick in the first inning, a bases-empty home run off right-hander Billy Loes in the third and a winning, solo jolt off losing right-hander Stu Miller (2-3) in the fifth.

Stuart's slugging barely overshadowed Willie Mays' two-game show for the Giants. He homered in each game, smacked two doubles and a triple, drove in five runs and regained the NL bat lead at .361 with a 6-for-7 night. Willie drove in the Giants' first three runs, two with his 16th homer, in the opener as Bob Friend (9-5) lost his second in a row.

Mays' second game homer, with none on in the eighth, was the only run allowed by lefty rookie Joe Gibbon (4-2). He gave up just six hits, struck out six and didn't walk a man in 7 2-3 innings of relief.

The Cubs escaping the cellar, swung for 18 hits and handed Lew Burdette (8-4) his second straight defeat.

A three-run triple by Maury Wills did it for the Dodgers as they came from behind with five in the fifth against loser Jim Owens (3-0). Charlie Neal also drove in three, two with a homer. Ed Roebuck (6-1) won his fifth in a row in relief.

July Looms Big Month For Ohio's Golf Fans

By FRITZ HOWELL

Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — July moved in today, bringing to Ohio golf fans the finest array of fairway features the state has enjoyed in years.

The month's program offers three tournaments of national importance and two of a statewide nature, plus today's windup of the Ohio Women's Amateur championship at Dayton's Miami Valley Country Club.

On the agenda are: July 6-10, The $16,000 Women's Open at Warren's Trumbull Country Club, in which the finest of the nation's professional and amateur stars will compete in a 72-hole medal play test.

July 11-17, The women's Trans-Mississippi Amateur championship at Cincinnati.

July 11-17, The 54th Ohio Amateur championship at Zanesville Country Club, with Cincinnati's Tony Blom defending his title at match play.

July 21-24, The National PGA championship at Akron Firestone Country Club, with the nation's best professionals trying to wrest the title from Bob Rosburg in a 72-hole medal play classic.

July 25-26, The Ohio Jay-Cee championship at Lima's Lost Creek Country Club.

Following this month's big spree, only two standout events are slated on the Buckeye courses. The Ohio Open championship is booked for Aug. 15-17 at the Snyder Park Course in Springfield, a municipal layout offering a stern test, and the Ohio Public Links classic is scheduled Aug. 8-11 at the Chippawa Club in Toledo. Both are three-day 72-hole medal play contests.

Lee Raymond of Toledo is the defending Ohio Open king, and Art Todd of Columbus is boss of the public linksters.

Runner-up for the title last year, Miss Abbott advanced to the finals today by beating Mrs. John Fitton of Hamilton, the tournament medalist, by a two-up score.

The tournament is being played over Miami Valley Country Club's 6,438-yard, par 76 course.

Veteran Gives Palmer Tips

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)

—Jock Hutchison, first American to win the British Open golf title, today gave reigning American champion Arnold Palmer a few expert tips on how to conquer St. Andrews Old Course in next week's 100th playing of the open.

"It would be wonderful if Palmer could add the British crown to his American Open and Masters triumphs," Hutchison said.

"But I don't think he'll do it. His work around the greens may let him down."

"I've told him he must play his pitches so they bounce only once and then sit down instead of running them up. That way they'll just roll on and on."

Palmer admitted the hazard. Hutchison, 76, a native of St. Andrews, migrated to the United States in 1904, became an American citizen, returned to his home town to win the British title in 1921 and now is retired in Evanston, Ill.

Palmer, defending champion Gary Player of South Africa and Peter Thomson, four-time winner from Australia, are the favorites for next week's championship.

Player and Thomson both shot 70s in practice Thursday. Palmer had a 71.

Gerald Smith of Michigan intercepted three passes in the football game against Illinois last November.

Tribe Tumbles To Third, Trails Yanks By 3 Games

WASHINGTON (AP) — Jim Grant, who has 13 straight victories over the Washington Senators, will try to make it 14 in a row tonight as the Cleveland Indians open a three-game series here.

Mudcat has beaten the Senators twice this year, and his victory string against them goes back to 1958, when he won five in a row against Washington.

The Senators will send rookie right hander Don Lee against the Tribe.

The Indians, who climbed into second place in the American League standings with two straight victories over Baltimore, were back in third place after dropping the third game of the series in Baltimore.

The Orioles pummeled the Indians 9-1 Thursday night, with Walt Drope and Jim Gentile knocking in seven of those runs.

Hal (Skinny) Brown pitched a six-hitter for his seventh victory in nine decisions.

The Indians got their only run in the fifth inning, when Vic Power led off with a double, went to third as Hank Foiles beat out a bunt, and scored on a sacrifice fly by Bubba Phillips.

That made the score 2-1. But in the bottom of the fifth, the Orioles jumped on starter Ted Bowsfield (3-4). Brown started things off with a single, and Marv Breeding hammered a home run into the left field seats.

Bowsfield was removed after Jackie Brandt singled. Wynn Hawkins came in and gave up a home run to Gentile.

Gentile hit another homer, this time with two aboard, in the seventh inning off Johnny Briggs. Mike Lee pitched hitless ball for the Tribe in the eighth.

DICK STUART
Pirate First Baseman Finds Range.

Stuart Returns To First With 3 Bangs And Bing

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Controversial and colorful Dick Stuart returned to the Pittsburgh lineup Thursday night with a bang. In fact, with three bangs and a bing—his ninth, 10th, and 11th home runs and a single.

"It was a long time coming. I was way overdue," Stuart exuded after the Pirates split a doubleheader with San Francisco. They dropped the first game 11-0 and stormed back to win the second 11-6.

Stuart, who hadn't played since last Friday night, drove in seven runs in the nightcap. He sat out the first contest. The homers were his first at Forbes Field this year.

"I don't like to sit on the bench," the big first basemen related. "When I sit around three or four days and then I do get in, it makes me bear down all the harder."

His home runs came in the first, third and fifth innings, all off different pitchers. Stuart had two more cracks to become the ninth player in major league history to hit four home runs in one game.

"I wanted that fourth one," Stuart admitted, "and they all would have been off different pitchers. But I swung at a bad pitch the fourth time up. (Bud)

Yesterday's Stars Hitting — Dick Stuart, Pirates, became first to hit three home runs in one game in the majors this season, connecting on his first three trips and then adding a two-run single for seven RBI in 11-6 victory after Giants took opener of two-night pair 11-0.

Pitching — Jack Sanford, Giants, allowed just three singles for his fourth shutout in the first game at Pittsburgh, walking none and striking out three in 11-0 victory.

Yanks Continue Home Run Barrage In 10-2 Win Over A's

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Skinny Brown and Jim Gentile brushed the salt off the Orioles' tail feathers, but it's going to take a hot July for Baltimore to stay close to New York in that American League race after the way the Yankees batted loose in June.

The Orioles, still within 1 1/2 games of the Yanks, grabbed second place back from Cleveland with a 9-1 victory Thursday night.

Brown chopped down the Injuns with a six-hitter and Gentile walloped two homers for five runs as the Birds ended their losing string at three.

But the Yankees, crashing five home runs, clobbered Kansas City 10-2. Those five homers, two by Bill Skowron, gave the leaders 46 for the month and a season total of 90. Roger Maris crashed his 25th and Mickey Mantle hit his 18th.

Skowron Belts 2 Roundtrippers

Chicago's fourth place White Sox, 4 1/2 games behind, ended Washington's winning streak at five with a 4-2 decision in 10 innings. Boston belted Detroit 11-7.

In the National League, Dick Stuart slugged three home runs as first place Pittsburgh salvaged a split in a two-night pair with San Francisco with an 11-6 victory. The Giants took the first game 11-0 behind Jack Sanford's three-hitter. Second place Milwaukee lost 11-5 at Chicago and fell three games behind the Pirates. The world champion Los Angeles Dodgers crept back into the first division for the first time since May 7, tying idle St. Louis for fourth place by beating Philadelphia 10-6.

While the Yankees were clubbing the A's to a seventh straight defeat, right-hander Ralph Terry (4-3) hung up his first complete game in seven tries since May 18. He allowed seven hits.

The Orioles, who had lost five in a row at home, got all they needed when Walt Drogo singled home two first-inning runs off losing southpaw Ted Bowsfield (3-4).

Al Smith, who hit a two-run homer in the second inning, doubled and scored the winning run on Joe Ginsberg's double for the White Sox against reliever Tex Clevenger (1-5). Russ Kemmerer (4-4) won it in relief.

Don Buddin eluded catcher Red

Wilson in a run-down for the deciding run as Boston scored six in the eighth and defeated Tiger reliever Paul Foytack (1-7). Detroit blew 5-0 and 7-5 leads, getting all the runs on homers—two by Rocky Colavito, who drove in five runs, and the other by Eddie Yost. Ted Williams hit his 50th home run for the Red Sox, his 13th this year. Tom Sturdivant (1-2) was the winner in relief.

Hank Flattens Foe In Fourth

DETROIT (AP)—Henry Hank is a unique man among prize fight-ers. He wants a chance at the championship as badly as the next fellow, but he is willing to wait until he deserves a chance.

Hank made no cries of "I want the champ" after a convincing knockout victory Thursday night over Victor Zalazar of Buenos Aires. Hank kayoed the Argentine fighter at 2:11 of the fourth round in a scheduled 10-rounder. It was Hank's fight all the way.

The Detroit fighter, one of the world's top-ranking middle-weights, wants to settle a score with Hank Casey before anything else. The unranked Casey won a split decision over Hank last month.

"When I beat him, then I'll start thinking of the bigger fights," said Hank.

A solid win over Casey would throw Hank in line for a bout against either NBA Champion Gene Fullmer or Paul Pender, who is recognized as champion in New York and Massachusetts.

Zalazar spent most of his brief time in the ring retreating, and Hank built up an early lead with overhand rights and digging lefts to the midsection. Hank finally staggered Zalazar early in the fourth round as the two came off the ropes. A series of four rights and lefts to the head finished Zalazar.

Hank weighed 159, Zalazar 160 1/2.

Both divisions of the East Liv-erpool Little League could wind up in ties after tonight's action.

Burbicks and the Chester Legion are tied up with 6-2 records in the National Loop as the Little League enters its final set of games tonight.

Over in the American Division a victory by Travelers tonight over Golden Star would throw that loop into a three-way tie between Golden Star, Homer Laughlins and Travelers.

Thursday Chester handed Burbicks a 7-3 setback behind the four-hit pitching of Bill Wright who struck out 11 batters.

John Finley had three hits and Tom Hansen belted a home run for Chester.

Eddie Golden had two of his team's four hits.

The Travelers' Mike Silliman scattered five hits while his teammates got only three off Danny Flasco, but proved enough to nip Laughlins, 3-1.

Len Walker homered for Laughlins' only run.

Pittsburgh was the first major league team to drive in 100 runs this season. They drove in 109 runs in their first 19 games.

First National, Elks Gain Wins In Minor League

Contractors Assn. Official Raps Congress Unit On Roads

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — An Ohio Contractors Association official says the "scandalous picture" of the interstate highway program painted by a congressional committee "just ain't so in Ohio."

Karl L. Rothermund Jr., of Lancaster, executive secretary of the association, said the record of Ohio road builders is outstanding in the nation.

Rothermund addressed a meeting of the association Thursday.

He referred to criticism of the interstate highway program by a congressional committee headed by Rep. John A. Blatnik (D-Minn.), and said it does not apply in Ohio.

Rothermund said contractors have held bid prices to an increase of less than 3 per cent in the past seven years while the cost of labor, materials and equipment jumped from 20 to 33 per cent.

The association official said that Ohio, fifth among the states with 11,490 interstate miles, ranked third in the nation on the basis of mileage meeting full interstate standards and open to traffic.

Most of the interstate route between Columbus and Conneaut opened Thursday.

Rothermund said, "We want to prove that conditions publicized by the Blatnik committee just do not exist in Ohio. We also want to erase the opinion of the public that the contractor is a thief and the highway engineer or inspector a whisky-drinking, fun-loving, incompetent public employee."

W. J. Creamean, location and design engineer in the Ohio Highway Department, told the association that a public hearing would be held as soon as a decision is reached on relocating U.S. 62 in the Alliance-Salem area. A study is nearing completion on the feasibility of a southern bypass, as opposed by a northern route, he added.

Dayton Police Question 75 In Death Of Girl

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Police have questioned about 75 persons in an attempt to find out who tied a pillowcase around a 21-year-old girl's neck and strangled her.

Joyceanna Dieterle was found dead in her one-room Dayton apartment Wednesday night by her fiancé and a friend, both airmen at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base. A pillowcase had been tied around the victim's neck and a brown scarf was stuffed in her mouth.

The girl's fiancé, Airman 2.C. Joe Sheppard, 24, told police he and Airman 3.C. Herbert Ziekle entered the apartment with a key she had given Sheppard. They said they found the girl, clad only in a pajama top, lying beside a bed.

The coroner called it murder by strangulation. He said it appeared the girl had not been sexually assaulted.

Police said, after questioning Sheppard and Ziekle, they were satisfied that the pair were not implicated in the case.

Police said there were signs of

Power Unions Await Parley

Representatives of the Ohio Edison Co. were to resume talks today at Akron with negotiators for two unions whose contracts expired at midnight Thursday.

Negotiations recessed shortly before 1 a. m. today. Federal Mediator Edward F. O'Brien of Cleveland made no comment on the 12 hour session, but it was learned the negotiators were thrashing out working conditions and had given little attention as yet to the money issue.

Negotiators for the Utility Workers of America, representing some 1,320 workers, and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, representing 625 workers, have been empowered by their memberships to call a strike to support their demands if they are not met in negotiation.

The company has an estimated 1,500,000 customers in 35 Ohio counties. The workers concerned are in Akron, Lorain, Warren, Elyria, Sandusky, Toronto, Stratton, Scioto, Shadyside, Marion, Mansfield, Massillon and Alliance.

Retiring Royals Star Again Beats Vees With Hitting

By The Associated Press
After all his ups and downs, you can't say Gordie Windhorn is quitting baseball at the peak of a promising career. But you couldn't prove that by the Richmond Virginians.

It was the Virginians' luck to be matched in the International League schedule with Windhorn and the Montreal Royals when the 26-year-old outfielder decided this week he'd had enough. By the time he was through with them, the Vees had had enough too.

Tuesday night, only hours after Windhorn said he was retiring to manage a bowling alley in Danville, Va., a ninth-inning homer by Gordie gave Montreal a 2-1 victory over Richmond. After a rain-out Wednesday, the teams were back at it in Montreal Thursday night.

Montreal won 1-0 behind the 3-hit pitching of Billy Kunkel. And who drove in the game's only run? Windhorn, of course, with a first inning sacrifice fly following singles by Gerry Snyder and Clarence Coleman.

Driver Convicted Of Illegal Backing

After a lengthy hearing today in Municipal Court, A. J. Blackhurst, 421 Grant St., was convicted of violating a section of state law which requires a motorist backing a car from a parking space to give "ample" warning to others in lawful use of the street and "exercise vigilance."

The charges were filed by police after a mishap Sunday afternoon at Broadway and Potters Alley, which involved Blackhurst's car and an auto driven by Ronald A. Montgomery, 18, of 661 Walnut St. Judge Samuel M. Chertoff said sentence will be imposed later.

Meanwhile, the judge continued until next Wednesday a hearing for James Hugh Timmons of Boring Ln., who was cited on a reckless driving charge June 16 after a collision on Lisbon St. between his auto and a bicycle ridden by Ricky Kelly, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kelly, 834 Spring Grove Ave.

Auto, Truck Damaged In Dresden Ave. Crash

An auto and truck were damaged Thursday at Dresden Ave. and Webber Way, police reported.

The mishap involved a 1953 sedan driven by David W. Stewart, 17, of East Aurora, N. Y., and a truck owned by E. Brooke Matlack, Inc., of Philadelphia and driven by Harry B. Collier, 33, of Hubbard, police said.

Meanwhile, Gene Rose, 1246 Sunnyside Ave., was treated at City Hospital Thursday night at 9:10 for a laceration suffered when his chin hit the steering wheel of his car. The family said his car collided with a truck which pulled into his path on lower St. Clair Ave. Police had no report of the mishap.

Named Acting Head

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The appointment of Dr. Jerry O. Crist as acting superintendent of Lima State Hospital for the Criminal Insane was announced Thursday. He replaces Dr. Henry Luidens who left that post to assume the duties as commissioner of mental hygiene for Ohio. Dr. Crist, 60, has been a staff physician at Toledo State Hospital the past six years.

Ladder Position Leads To Charges For Trespassing

If a man places the foot of his ladder on a neighbor's property while painting his home, he's guilty of trespassing, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff ruled today in a case involving 2 Morton St. families whose homes are about 8 feet apart.

Mrs. Mae McGraw filed the charge against Ralph Newtz, her next-door neighbor, alleging he trespassed on her property Tuesday while painting his home, although he had been warned not to do so. She testified he placed the foot of a ladder on her lawn while painting the window sashes in his own house.

Newtz conceded the action, but said he finished the painting job by removing the sashes and doing the work indoors after Mrs. McGraw protested. He pleaded not guilty.

Newtz said the case goes back to an incident five days previously in which Mrs. McGraw's husband stacked "rotten lumber" against the Newtz home, but removed it later at the defendant's request.

"There should be more give and take between neighbors whose homes are located so close together," the judge told the two. He fined Newtz $50 and costs, but suspended the penalty upon future good behavior.

Explorers To Present Displays At Camporee

About 23 attended a meeting of area Explorer Scouts Thursday night at Camp McKinley near Lisbon when plans were made to present demonstrations at a scout camporee July 22-24 at the Lisbon Fairgrounds.

The explorers will give demonstrations of first aid, Indian relics and electrical exhibits. Joe Zubay is in charge of the meeting, attended by representatives of Posts 7, 21 and 36.

Plans were discussed for an explorer ball in the autumn.
